POWER PITCHING WORKSHOP

Getting your “story” or pitch right, is not only the secret to gaining access to investors but it will also open the gateway to attracting talented staff and profitable customers.

It's amazing that the majority of companies fail in the basic task of explaining what they do. It takes practice and time to master this talent in an effective way. Most companies will fail to secure investment and limit their growth potential if they do not master the talent of pitching.

The Escalator Service helps aspiring companies raise capital. If you are looking at raising finance within the next 2 years then you should attend.

This workshop is an interactive working session where you will learn what investors are looking for in an investor pitch. Most importantly we will help you craft your company “pitch”.

This is a high impact intensive session with rave reviews.
